

Nation Waits Decision On Railroad Strike Set For 4 P.M.

Washington, May 23, (P)—The White House today summoned the rail management negotiators to a conference with President Truman who then was talking with Brotherhood leaders who have a strike set for 4 p. m.

The call went out one hour after heads of the Railway Trainmen and Engineers had arrived at the White House with their reply to Mr. Truman's compromise wage proposal.

John J. Felley, president of the Association of American Railroads, headed the carrier delegation.

Washington, May 22 (P)—Leaders of the Railway Trainmen and Engineers who have called a national strike to start at 4 p. m., went to the White House before noon today with their reply to President Truman's compromise wage proposal.

Alvanley Johnston, of the Engineers and A. F. Whitney of the Trainmen, told reporters:

"We'll have a statement after we see the president."

The White House had previously sent Labor Adviser John R. Steelman to crucial conferences with labor and management representatives in an urgent effort to head off the railroad strike set for 4 p. m.

"I can't tell you anything now," Steelman told reporters as he left a hotel after meeting with leaders of the Trainmen and Engineer Brotherhoods and headed for talks with operator representatives.

In New York, Thomas J. Harkins, eastern representative for the engineers, said he had "no hope" that the walkout on the government-seized lines would be called off. He added:

"I hope I'm wrong."

Before entering the Mayflower hotel suites of A. F. Whitney, president of the Trainmen's Brotherhood, and Alvanley Johnston, head of the Locomotive Engineers, Steelman told reporters:

"I came to have a final talk with the gentlemen before they see the President."

Steelman was asked whether he carried any new proposal to the two brotherhoods bettering the 18 1/2 cent hourly boost offered by Mr. Truman yesterday. He declined comment on this and refused to answer any other questions.

The White House aide called at the hotel at 10:30 a. m. (EST). A few minutes earlier Johnston and Whitney had again declined to tell reporters what their decision will be on the 18 1/2 cent wage proposition. Mr. Truman had set a noon deadline for their reply.

Embargo Readied

A general embargo on railroad freight was readied meanwhile by the Office of Defense Transportation for prompt use if necessary.

This was reported by an Office of Defense Transportation official as President Truman awaited a reply on the compromise wage proposal he offered in an attempt to stave off a walkout on the government-seized lines.

The ODT official, who asked not to be identified by name, told a reporter:

"The (freight embargo) will be ordered within a few minutes after the men strike, if they strike, to insure the movement of essential supplies by as many trains as may be running."

He also said the ODT will set up a list of commodities to which other freight carriers must give preference. These orders will affect water and motor freight carriers.

Additional orders probably will be issued to insure movement of essential passenger traffic by motor and air carriers, he said.

From On Proposal

Leaders of the Trainmen and Engineers Brotherhoods said the 18 1/2 cents an hour increase suggested by Mr. Truman last night was unfavorable. They said it would rule out any changes in present working conditions.

Dissuaded by the White House from returning to Cleveland last night, they were due to give their answer to Mr. Truman personally some time this morning.

Meanwhile, the government, already running the railroads under a White House seizure order of last Friday, braced itself to make the best of things if the strike materializes after the five-day truce arranged by Mr. Truman last Saturday.

The Office of Defense Transportation had plans already drawn to mobilize other forms of transportation—air, water and highway—to insure movement of essential products, principally food. But ODT said it intended to hold back its orders until the strike appeared inevitable.

YOUTHS POINT COUNTY NEEDS IN DISCUSSION

Thirteen students from county high schools Wednesday evening outlined their ideas of what the county needs at the annual assembly of the county Welfare Council held in the court rooms.

Such things as increased physical education activities, a recreation center for the county's youth similar to the "living memorial" plan proposed some months ago, a county visiting nurse service, and increased participation by the church in youth activities were among the ideas advanced by the students.

Taking part in the panel were Esther Dively, Arendtsville; Warren Schimmel and Betty Jane Markle, East Berlin; Janet Musselman and Phyllis McClell, Fairfield; David Rasmussen and Betty Leeming, Gettysburg; Charles Hall and Mary Kay Crouse, Littlestown; Ralph Klingel and Janet Duttera, New Oxford, and James Neely and Naomi Keefer, York Springs.

Recreation Centers

The Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putnam, pastor of Christ Lutheran church here, presided as moderator for the panel discussion.

Esther Dively opened the discussion by claiming that the need for physical education has increased tremendously and that it should be met by the formation of some center as the "living memorial" proposal. Janet Musselman countered by adding that while a program of recreation and physical training are needed, it should be provided by creating a center in each community rather than in one central community.

Much of the argument between the youngsters came about over the question of whether a recreation center for the county would be preferable to individual centers in each community, with the majority apparently favoring one large center with a director of recreation and a social functions director who would, in the same manner as the county librarian now serves all communities of the county, promote a program of recreation in all other parts of the county.

Need Playgrounds

James Neely presented as an argument for having a large central center the fact that "there should (Please Turn to Page 2)

BUILDS PLANT NEAR HERE FOR WEED BURNERS

The Ker-O-Kill company, five miles east here on the Lincoln highway, is starting the construction of a 26 by 80 foot frame factory building, Ronald Starnier, Gettysburg R. 5, owner of the establishment, announced today.

The present plant is housed in a 26 by 50 foot building originally designed, when built last November, to be a warehouse, but lack of lumber and workers prevented the immediate construction of the plant.

Designed as a temporary structure, the new plant building will be connected with the present building by a ten foot covered ramp with a concrete floor. When the structure is completed Starnier plans to move the machinery from the present building and convert that building into a warehouse.

Delayed By Shortages

While held up by the material shortage situation throughout the country the plant here has started production and now is producing about ten per cent of the amount scheduled when the company is able to get into full operation, Starnier added.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Starnier, Gettysburg R. D., Starnier graduated from Gettysburg high school and then spent 16 years on the west coast, establishing the Ker-O-Kill company for the production of weed burners and disinfecting torches 13 years ago at Redwood City, Calif.

His present plans call for eventual construction of a factory near Guildens large enough to produce all of the product and to convert the Redwood City plant into a west coast distributing establishment.

Difficulties in obtaining steel sheets for the manufacture of the burners and in obtaining machines and steel for the proposed permanent factory has been holding up production here, he added.

At present eight men are employed at the local plant.

RUSS-IRANIAN CASE COMPLEX AND PERILOUS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The thing which impresses me most about the latest developments in the Russo-Iranian imbroglio before the Security Council of the United Nations is that Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala is either a very brave and wise man or he is mightily misguided in his handling of this explosive case.

The Council yesterday voted to continue on its agenda indefinitely the question of (1) whether Moscow has withdrawn its troops from Azerbaijan province in northwest Iran as promised, and (2) whether Russia is interfering with the internal affairs of the Tehran government. The vote was unanimous, excepting that Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko again boycotted the session.

The events which immediately preceded this vote are highly interesting, and perhaps also highly significant. Ambassador Hussein Ala appeared before the Council and expressed doubt that all Soviet troops had left Iran. He also said that he hadn't been instructed by his government to withdraw the other charge—that Moscow had interfered in Iranian affairs—and he thought it should stay on the agenda.

Premier's Request

Now just a few hours before he made this statement, Hussein Ala had notified the Council that he had received a telegram from Iranian Premier Qavam, at Tehran, saying a commission had failed to find any trace of Soviet troops on Persian soil. The premier asked that the question of withdrawal of Red troops be dropped by the Council.

What's the significance of all this. Is Hussein Ala right or is he wrong? It is so contrary to practice that when an ambassador goes outside the instructions issued by his government on such a highly important matter, it's time to sit up and take notice. But then the query immediately arises, of course, whether he actually is exceeding his instructions.

Can't Wait for War

The very alert Hussein Ala might be serving his country very usefully if, for example, there were differences of opinion among the members of the government in Tehran regarding the Russian question, and some official high in power had advised the ambassador sub rosa to interpret developments according to his own best judgment. Of course that would be a dangerous game for an envoy to play, because it might result in his recall.

However, that's all speculative. What is clear is that the Security Council apparently has no intention of dropping this case until it is ironed out.

Presumably the Council members have in mind that it is their business to settle political disputes which might produce war. They can't wait until war starts before acting. If they temporize we shall have another failure such as is symbolized in the marble palace on the shore of Lake Geneva.

be some way in which young people can meet other young people throughout the county. In the smaller communities everyone knows everyone else and there is no way of getting new ideas."

Charles Hall suggested a physical education director for rural districts to act on a circuit basis, visiting each school in turn in order to promote a physical education program.

Janet Duttera suggested playgrounds to provide supervised play for small children in each community for at least several hours each week and Janet Musselman suggested that the churches could provide the leadership to help along a program in each community.

Brief Business Session

Ralph Klingel suggested additional visiting nurse service for the county and suggested that the number of school nurses be increased. In most communities where a school nurse is maintained on a part time basis the nurse is overwhelmed with duties, he said.

David Rasmussen suggested a course in school for boys and girls both on first aid, practical nursing and similar subjects that all need to know. Following the discussion the audience was given the opportunity of asking questions of the youngsters.

In a brief business session prior to the discussion the council approved three proposed changes to the constitution of the organization. Two changes apply to the method of notification on proposed changes in the constitution and by-laws while the third enlarges the board of directors by making the executive heads of various welfare groups in the county and the county president judge permanent members of the board.

SIX BABES FROM BRIDESHIP DIE; PROBE OPENED

New York, May 23 (AP)—The death toll of babies stricken ill aboard GI brideships mounted to six today when a five-month-old girl in this country only four days, died in Pittsburgh.

The child, Vivian Smith, arrived here with her mother, Mrs. Howard Smith, whose husband lives in Burbank, Calif., on the S.S. Brazil last Sunday.

The death, which physicians diagnosed temporarily as acute diarrhea and malnutrition, was the first reported among the Brazil's passengers.

Five infants who traveled on the brideship Zebulon Vance have died from a mysterious ailment which struck them as they crossed the Atlantic.

Probe Opened

A federal investigation was begun after mothers complained of overcrowding and unsanitary conditions aboard the vessel.

The ship docked here Monday after a 13-day voyage from Le Havre. Four deaths occurred at the Fort Hamilton hospital—where 15 other babies originally were taken—and one at Paris, Ill. Several ailing infants have since been transferred from the army hospital to other hospitals or their homes for private treatment.

One of the GI wives, Mrs. John Aliberti, formerly of Keerbergen, Belgium, said cabins aboard the Vance were so crowded that "in the cabin in which I came over there were 18 women and 10 babies."

Says Babe Lacked Care

Her two-months-old son, Anthony, is seriously ill in New York hospital. "The baby is skin and bones, like the victims of the horror camps at Dachau," said the infant's father, a former staff sergeant of Portland, Maine.

Mrs. Aliberti said the baby was healthy when she boarded the ship and added that although the baby became ill there was no medical examination except a perfunctory scrutiny of the child's hair the day before the ship landed. Acting New York City Health Commissioner Dr. Israel Weinstein said the outbreak resembled "summer diarrhea."

Earlier, Col. John U. Schless, chief of public relations for the port, said the Vance "was equipped with enough medical officers and supplies to handle any ordinary situation that might occur."

SHOT PRISONERS 'ON ORDERS' SAYS NAZI IN COURT

Dachau, Germany, May 23 (AP)—George Fleps, identified as the SS private who fired the first shots in the Malmédy massacre of American prisoners of war, said in a statement today that he raised his pistol after "we received orders from up ahead to bump off the Americans."

In the document read to the seven-man court trying 74 former SS men and officers for wanton murder of unarmed American prisoners and Belgian civilians, Fleps asserted:

"I fired one shot at one of the Americans and saw him fall over. As far as I know, I fired the first shot into the field."

Was Eager To Shoot
Then, Fleps said, machine guns in the surrounding tanks of the column started spraying the Americans who had been herded into the field at the Malmédy crossroads during the early stages of the battle of the Ardennes bulge.

Throughout the reading of the document, Fleps, a Romanian, stared expressionless in front of him. He had been identified in court Tuesday by Virgil P. Lary of Winchester, Ky., former first lieutenant who escaped from the field from which 71 bodies were recovered a month later.

Sgt. Hans Siptrott, another of the accused, said he was in the tank with Fleps and saw that Fleps was eager to shoot. He said he gave the order to Fleps because he had been ordered by his company commander before the start of the offensive to shoot prisoners.

PROBERS TOLD FDR CONSIDERED ATTACK ON JAPS

Washington, May 23 (AP)—The congressional Pearl Harbor investigation ended today with a statement by Former Secretary of War Stimson that President Roosevelt "was undoubtedly considering" an attack on Japanese forces threatening South Asia late in 1941.

But to his recollection, Stimson advised the Senate-House inquiry committee in written responses to a series of questions submitted by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), the late President never formally announced any decision of this kind to top military advisers. Nor would he have acted without the consent of Congress, the former cabinet member added.

Stimson's answers went into the committee's record along with replies by Former Secretary of State Hull to 169 additional questions, mostly about reputed agreements with the British for parallel action before the December 7, 1941, attack. Hull denied knowledge of any such agreements.

Thirty Days for Report
Also included in the record, now closed to further evidence, was a copy of the memoirs of Prince Kono, Japanese premier whose cabinet fell in October, 1941.

Chairman Barkley (D-Ky.) called the committee together today to receive these documents formally and to act on a suggestion that it request an additional 30 days to complete its report. The current deadline set by Congress is June 1. The investigation began last November 15.

Stimson, in ill health, did not appear before the committee in person, so Ferguson drafted 61 questions in the nature of a cross examination.

Stimson wrote in reply that the President was preparing a "further warning" to Japan after the November 28 war cabinet meeting and was considering a special telegram to the emperor of Japan. Stimson continued:

"I do not recollect that the President prior to December 7th formally announced any decision on his part to fight if the Japanese passed the point in question, but he was undoubtedly considering such a decision most seriously because it was the advice of his best qualified advisers."

Thad Phipps and the Garden Party

Thad Phipps' wife finally got him to the Ladies' Flower Club Lawn Festival and Garden Party.

At first Thad was mighty uncomfortable in his Sunday best, making polite conversation with the ladies, nibbling on watercress sandwiches. Until Milly Harzell comes up with a tray of ice-cold beer in frosty glasses.

"I suppose," says Milly slyly, "you'll think beer's a sissy drink." "Sissy drink!" says Thad emphatically. "Just because it's mild and moderate doesn't make it sissy! Beer's a man's drink!"

And then Thad sees that half the ladies there are sipping beer, as well as those who've chosen lemonade and cider, and he mutters: "I reckon it's a ladies' drink, too."

From where I sit, more and more people are realizing, like Thad, that beer doesn't belong to any special group or occasion—it's a wholesome American beverage that belongs wherever folks enjoy good taste and moderation.

ACME, MOOSE, ELKS, KNOX'S, REGISTER WINS

The Acme team moved to the lead in the Community Softball league Wednesday evening by nailing out the W. E. Aires 2-1 on the college field. The Aires secured a run in the third inning and led 1-0 until the Acme pushed over the winning tallies in the seventh frame. Houck and Tawney turned in a bit of the best pitching seen so far in the loop.

Taking advantage of wildness on the part of the State Guard hurler, the Moose chalked up a 5-3 victory over the State Guard in the first game of the evening on the college diamond.

Rallying for three runs in the last of the sixth inning, the Elks nosed out the Marketeers 5-4 in the second game on the high school field. Bud Knox doubled two runners home to produce the winning tally.

Warn Parkers

Knox's Grocery broke into the win column for the first time by defeating the American Legion in the opener at high school 10-2.

Spectators and fans are requested to refrain from parking on edges of lawns and in front of garages near the college field. Plenty of parking space is available in the field near the diamond.

Two CARDINAL LEFTIES MAY GAIN 20 WINS

Associated Press Sports Writer Barring unforeseen developments, the St. Louis Cardinals, knee-deep in southpaw strength on the mound, may turn up with a pair of 20-game winners this year, each pitching from the left side. Only once since the turn of the century has a national league club boasted two left-handed 20-game winners in one season.

In Max Lanier (6-0) and Howie Pollet (4-2), the Cards have two of the most accomplished pitchers in the league. Having already won more than half the team's total between them, the pair stand a good chance to emulate lefties Carl Hubbell and Cliff Melton, each of whom gained 20 or more triumphs for the New York Giants in 1937.

Pollet's fourth victory last night, a 7-1 win over his pet "cousins," the New York Giants, came at a most opportune time, since it enabled the Cards to regain their first place national league deadlock with the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Brooks had moved a half game ahead by shading the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 13 innings earlier in the day.

Sex Win On Homer
Boston's American league leading Red Sox retained their six game margin over the New York Yankees by winning a 12-inning game from the Cleveland Indians 7-4. A home run by Ted Williams with one on in the 12th broke a 4-4 deadlock.

The Yankees overcame a 3-0 deficit as a result of Hank Greenberg's first inning home run, to defeat the Detroit Tigers 5-2 and hand Fred Hutchinson his first loss. Until the Yanks tallied four runs on him in the fifth, Hutchinson had run up 18 consecutive shutout innings. A triple play, with everybody in the Yankee infield taking part, helped the New Yorkers out of a big hole in the eighth.

In their place for a few hours as a result of Detroit's loss, the Washington Senators fell back to fourth when they dropped a night tussle to the St. Louis Browns 3-1.

Phillies Win
Johnny Sain pitched the Boston Braves into a virtual third place tie with the Cubs by trouncing the Cincinnati Reds 5-1 for his fifth triumph.

A double by first baseman Murrell Jones in the ninth scored Don Koloway with the run that gave the Chicago White Sox a 5-4 verdict over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Schoolboy Rowe starring both at bat and on the mound, the Philadelphia Phils upset Pittsburgh, 6-2 for the Quakers' second straight.

Sports Roundup

New York, May 23 (AP)—While the Yankees were raising all that fuss about the "snatching" of their players by the American league, did anyone think that it was incongruous in view of the way the Yankees (football branch) have grabbed off National league players?

... Lawson Little, 1940 national open champion and a golf pro since 1936, is joining the Professional Golfers' Association this year. ... The Red Sox are complaining that their hitting slump (what slump?) is due to a lack of batting practice. They had so many men in camp this spring that no one got much time at the plate and since then they've had trouble getting in their ticks.

WHO CAUGHT?

When the Seton Hall college baseball team played Cornell recently the leadoff man for Seton Hall was Centerfielder John Connelly, who had spent ten months in a German prison camp. ... He walked. On first base for Cornell he found Arnold Kelly, who had been in the same POW camp. ... Connelly promptly stole second and the guy who tried to tag him was Shortstop Bob Gleason, who had been his lieutenant during training at Atlantic City. ... Good thing Cornell had some civilians in there.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

Dick Powell, newly-appointed Eastern league umpire, once fought a six-round exhibition against Jack Dempsey and also has taken on Johnny Risko and Jess Willard. ... If you've wondered about the Notre Dame football prospects, the word is out that the Irish aren't especially interested in big George Connor's reported switch from Holy Cross because they're plentifully supplied with good tackles. ... George Nicholson, who has survived more rounds in the ring with Joe Louis than any other boxer, has been promoted to Joe's assistant trainer and probably gets a lot of pleasure out of picking the champ's sparring partners. ... One small section of Connecticut boasts 22 badminton clubs, which leaves the field wide open for cracks about birds of a feather—and maybe about nutmegs, too.

IRA PLANK TO END 32ND YEAR AS B.B. COACH

Ira Plank, Gettysburg college baseball coach, who is the oldest collegiate diamond mentor in the country from the standpoint of service, will complete his 32nd season here this week-end when his charges play host to Dickinson Friday afternoon and Franklin and Marshall on Saturday.

A brother of the famed Eddie Plank who recently was chosen for baseball's Hall of Fame, Ira has guided the Bullet nines to a record of 233 wins against 144 losses.

Although never approaching his brother's mark, Ira was a star in his own right before he assumed the mantle of coach at Gettysburg. A righthander—his brother was a lefty—Ira pitched for the local college for three years and played center on the varsity football team for two years.

Enters Pro Ball

In 1904 as a pitcher for Norwich, Conn., of the old Connecticut league, the Bullet coach made his start in organized ball. A year later he moved to Altoona of the old Tri-State League but the next season found him back with Norwich.

Ira had a good year with Norwich in 1907 when he won 24 and lost nine to lead the pitchers of that loop. After winning 26 and losing but 10 the following year, the New York Yankees drafted him and then shunted him to Jersey City of the International League.

The 1909 season found him back in the Connecticut League but this time with Meriden. He tolled for both Northampton and Springfield of the same loop the following season, while a year later he was with Binghamton of the New York State League. In 1912 he traveled to South Bend, Ind., of the Central League.

Becomes College Coach

Ira returned to Gettysburg in 1913 when he became manager of the Gettysburg club of the Blue Ridge League while also handling the college coaching chores. After another year of the dual duties, he sang his swan song to organized ball but remained at the college.

During his 32 years of service as coach, Ira has had some excellent teams but he points with pride to his 1916 combination which won 11 and lost four, and numbered the Allentown and York teams of the Tri-State League among its victims.

Many of his proteges have seen service in organized ball and he reminisces about the activities of pitchers Paul Sherman, Earl Howard, Topsy Hoar and Bill Sherdell, and catcher Bill Mahaffie. Other luminaries of those first 15 years of his coaching were Jackie Kyle and Deacon Motter, first basemen; Junie Bream and Rabbit Rote, third basemen; Benny Williams and Hen Bream, shortstops; Sam Shaulis, catcher; Poddie Menchey, pitcher, and Hymie Keiser, a rightfielder.

Bought By Pros

Some of his recent stars who were owned by big league clubs were Jackie McCloy, Doc Bowers, Lefty Haas, Harry O'Neill, Jake Weikert, Jake Dracha, Al Jones, Eddie Gulian and Turney Ecker.

Ira has two boys on his present team which has won six and lost two who he believes have big careers ahead of them. They are Lefty Russ Aungst, Pine Grove, Pa., who has hurled five of Gettysburg's six victories this year (including two one-hitters, and second baseman Joe Cervino, Camden, N. J., who is hammering the ball at a .545 clip which includes three home runs.

Racers Qualify For Indianapolis Classic

Indianapolis, May 23 (AP)—Time was running short today for filling the lineup for the 30th running of the Indianapolis motor speedway's 500-mile race May 30, but the weather was improving and mechanics gradually were getting the bugs out of cars that had been idle five years.

Only 14 cars have qualified for the grind and trials will be run only Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday for the 19 other positions.

Five drivers made the grade yesterday in a spurt of activity brought on by the first full day of sunshine since trials began last week-end. Mauri Rose of South Bend, Ind., co-winner with Floyd Davis of the 1941 race, grabbed the inside position in the fourth row by a twilight run at 124.065 miles an hour.

Other qualifiers were Russell Snowberger of Detroit, at 121.593 miles an hour; Emil Andres of Chicago, 121.139; Jole Chitwood, Reading, Pa., 119.816, and Al Putnam, Indianapolis, 116.283.

A plant to manufacture synthetic gasoline and diesel oil from natural gas is being constructed in Texas.

Littlestown and Biglerville high schools will play for the championship of the Adams County Scholastic Baseball league as a result of Littlestown defeating Arendtsville at Littlestown Wednesday afternoon 4-1.

The victory pulled the winners into a tie for Biglerville for first place and created the necessity of a one-game playoff for the title. The arrangements for the title game are expected to be made today.

After Arendtsville tabbed a run in the first inning, Littlestown knotted the score in the second and went ahead with another run in the fourth. Two runs in the fifth clinched the contest. The Apple Pickers won three and lost four during the season.

Today's Talk

A TREASURY OF INFORMATION

My friend, George Stimpson, one of the most beloved human beings it has been my fortune to know, has rung the bell again. He has just published "A Book About A Thousand Things." This is a wonderful companion to his interesting and instructive book—"A Book About The Bible."

In this new book Mr. Stimpson has accumulated odd and fascinating information about a thousand things that should be welcomed by everyone who wants to know what few know. For example, here are a few of the things he asks and answers: Do you know what is meant by the phrase "eating humble pie"? How did the word "hello" originate? Does the centre of a wheel turn? What highwayman became Chief Justice of England? Why are Irishmen called paddies? Why are submarines called U-boats? How did "red tape" originate? Did Harvard men found Yale? And so on, for 513 pages. This is a book that should be a wonderful one to pick up in odd moments. It bubbles with information that will add intellectual height to the best informed.

Mr. Stimpson has devoted over twenty years to the preparation of this book. It should be in every college and public library—and in millions of homes. There isn't a dull paragraph in the entire volume, and it is made up of brief paragraphs. It's a regular library in miniature.

This book was written by the author to satisfy his own curiosity. Thousands of sources were consulted—books, newspapers, magazines, old files, and a number of libraries. Boswell once quoted Dr. Johnson as saying: "The greatest part of a writer's time is spent in reading, in order to write. A man will turn over half a library to make one book." That's what George Stimpson has done. And he has done us all a big turn!

From his earliest youth George Stimpson wanted to know things. He was forever asking questions. Brought up on a Western farm, where books were few and far between, his curiosity was whetted, so that when the opportunity came for gaining the information for which his hungry mind craved, he didn't miss a trick. Moving to Washington, D. C. many years ago, and devoting himself to newspaper work, he took every odd moment to hunt up the things he wanted to know. This new book is the result—and it is a rare achievement.

Costing no more than a de luxe dinner these days, "A Book About A Thousand Things" will give nourishment to the mind for a lifetime!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Good Company"

TITLES

Wonder if the good Lord cares
Who the champion's title wears;
Who the fastest mile can run,
Who the surest fire a gun?
Finished with the work of men
Will these greatly matter then?

What of us whose toll is plain,
And unnoticed here remain?
Will it matter that we failed
As a champion to be hailed?
Will God's blessings only fall
To the greatest of us all?

Did the Master say aright:
Greater was the widow's mite
Than the gifts the rich bestowed
By the greater love it showed?
Done with earth, the humblest then
God may welcome home again.

REMINISCENCES

of
70 Years in Gettysburg

By DR. HENRY STEWART

The Battlefield Memorial Association

The Acts of Assembly of April 30, 1864, and April 24, 1866, incorporated a group of fifty-odd gentlemen—together with all others who shall subscribe to the fund devoted to the preservation of the battlefield—under this title, giving them wide powers, including the acquisition of land by condemnation proceedings.

The project lay dormant for a time and it was not until the Legislature appropriated $3,000 in 1867 and a like sum in 1863 that they began operations by the purchase of land on Culp's hill, East Cemetery hill, the ground for Hancock avenue to, and land on, the Round Tops, using this money it is believed, but there is no record of a meeting of the Association until 1872.

The observation on East Cemetery hill and the construction of Hancock avenue and the road over Culp's hill, were their first (I think) "projects." But these came a little later, after this acquisition of the land. In 1878 the first Encampment of the G. A. R., on East Cemetery hill gave the matter a great impetus. In 1879 the 2nd Mass. Reg't erected the first monument at the foot of Stevens knoll, on the way to Culp's hill—the fore-runner of a long list of such.

In 1880 N. G. Wilson was elected superintendent—and "attention to the roads" was ordered. A Committee was designated to secure appropriations from the several States which had troops here engaged, for the "laying out of avenues" and making the battlefield more accessible, and authorized the road from the Taneytown road to Round Top (Hancock avenue.) Pennsylvania to head the list with an appropriation of $10,000.

This is not the place for a detailed history of the Association—I have introduced this much accurately to show its beginnings. If you are interested in the details, Mr. Vanderslice's book is available in the college library, the offices of the Park Commission, or the County Historical Society.

February 11, 1895 an Act of Congress authorized the Secretary of War to receive from the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association all the lands belonging to it (800 acres,) etc., etc., and created the Gettysburg National Park.

May 22, 1895, the Directors of the Association held their last meeting, winding up their affairs and requesting enabling legislation from the state.

They had done a splendid job, in the face of many difficulties. They had spent over $100,000—of which nearly $10,000 had been raised by private subscriptions—with a very small administrative expenditure. (To be continued)

NIMITZ ORDERS

CITED AT TRIAL

Nuernberg, May 23 (AP)—Admiral of the Fleet Chester W. Nimitz, American war-time commander in the Pacific, stated in a deposition introduced at the international military tribunal's war crimes trial today that the United States ordered unrestricted submarine and air warfare against Japan on December 7, 1941.

His answers were sought by counsel for Grand Adm. Karl Doenitz of the German navy, who sought to show there were many parallels between American undersea warfare in the Pacific and that of Germany in the Atlantic, where Doenitz issued "sink on sight" directives to his U-boat packs.

Nimitz said the American order was justified by Japanese attacks on that date on U. S. bases and on both armed and unarmed ships and nationals without warning or declaration of war. The order was issued on the day of the Pearl Harbor attack.

"On general principles the U. S. submarines did not rescue enemy survivors if undue additional hazard to the submarine resulted or if the submarine would thereby be pre-

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON

Windsor, Conn., (P)—Francis de Sopo and his son, Sandy, share the same birthday date, June 29. Today they were sharing the same hospital room following identical operations on the same day. Sandy underwent an appendectomy at 10 a. m. the other day at St. Francis hospital in nearby Hartford. The father entered the hospital that night.

Backfire by Rufus Heed

Chapter 13

The long, well proportioned drawing room, the center and the crown of beauty of Random Folly, was full of light and warmth and happy, laughing people. Light from two magnificent crystal chandeliers set off the old mahogany square piano which was always tuned and ready for the touch of this generation's jazz and jive. As Whitney greeted her friends, crowding around Paul to welcome him home again, she was aware of the deep inner happiness this old familiar room always brought back to her.

She walked over to a large painting hanging opposite the fireplace. The painted wide-set brown eyes of Caleb Hamilton founder of the house of Hamilton, were so curiously like her own.

"I'm going to be married in this room some day, Grampy," she whispered softly under her breath. "And bless you for the lovely house you built for all of us. I am happy tonight."

For a long moment her affectionate eyes searched the hard, rugged face above her. It was the face of a dominant choleric man, very sure of himself and secure in his determination to make life give him what he wanted.

"You knew what you wanted and took it, didn't you, Grampy?" Ideas were darting in and out of Whitney's mind like swallows at sunset swooping under the eaves of the stables. Serious, happy thoughts all sharply mixed up with flashing new anxieties and unexpected grown-up responsibilities. Suddenly Whitney became aware of a voice speaking low and urgently just behind her. She turned and found the Count smiling down on her.

"It is strange how much you resemble him—this ancestor of yours. Only he does not look as if he ever had a good time and you—you must always be happy."

"Oh, don't worry about Grampy—he didn't miss a thing. He always planned his life the way he wanted it. There's a saying in the family that is credited to him—I've heard it since I was three. 'If you know what you want, you've half-way gotten it.' He couldn't stand people who fumble around, didn't know what they wanted and then blamed everyone else for the mess they made of their lives."

Whitney looked up at him, a little startled at his unexpected remark. "What makes you think that?" "I know what I want—it's the dream in my heart, and it's yours."

For a moment Whitney hesitated, then hastily she continued reminding about Grampy.

"You'd be surprised how stiff-necked my honorable ancestor was." There was laughter in Whitney's voice as she walked slowly with him through the long windows out onto the terrace. The moon was shining on the river and a narrow ribbon of silver edged the foot of the gardens. The clear cool air was very still.

"Baby—you gave me my chance today. I had not dared to hope before. You are coming to live in Washington—near me. I shall see you every day. We will work out everything together—that is all good. You shall see how much I love you."

Cards Put Pair On Block For Cash Sale

New York, May 23 (P)—Outfielder Danny Lithwiler and Pitchers Charley (Red) Barrett and Fred Schmidt of the St. Louis Cardinals are reported on the block, ready for any National league club with the right kind of a cash offer.

Although the Red Birds officially have no comment to make on further trading reports it had been her name called. The next instant Paul had stepped through the windows and out on the terrace.

"I thought I saw you coming out here," His voice was cold, abrupt. "Polly told me to tell you the game was starting."

"We were just coming in, Paul. Why can't we all sit together?" "Oh, no. I'm not playing," the Count said quickly. They had returned to the drawing room. Paul was looking steadily at the man on the other side of his fiancée.

"You see," the Count explained hastily as Whitney started to protest, "I never play cards."

Paul's face was expressionless as he turned to Whitney.

"Well, the rest of us do, so let's get at it. Senator Field is to be the banker. I think he has reserved a seat for you close to where he is going to officiate."

As the three walked to the back-car table, Paul knew the Count had lied and the Count knew that he knew it.

learned that any one of the three and possibly all of them can be had before the June 15 outdawn date.

Lithwiler, recently discharged from the army, simply does not fit into the Red Birds' outfield picture with Stan Musial, Terry Moore and Enos Slaughter holding down the picket line. Barrett has had a tough time getting started despite his 23-game winning season of last year.

Pittsburgh, May 23 (AP)—Five-months-old Vivian Smith, one of the babies stricken ill while en route to America in GI bridegrooms, died here today of what physicians temporarily diagnosed as acute diarrhea and malnutrition.

The death was the first reported among passengers of the S. S. Brazil which docked in New York Sunday. Efforts to reach the child's father, Howard Smith of Burbank, Calif., before her death proved unsuccessful. The mother, Mrs. Hilda Smith, was hospitalized last night after she collapsed from worry.

Spreading Wave Of Mine Shutdowns Despite Government Seizure

PICTURE NOT ROSY BUT HOPE NOT ABANDONED

By HAROLD W. WARD

Washington, May 23 (AP)—A spreading wave of shutdowns hit soft coal mines today despite federal seizure, as the government strove for an agreement with John L. Lewis to prevent another complete shutdown by the weekend.

The picture was not rosy. The best that Secretary of Interior Krug could offer as government mine boss was a guarded "hope" that the end of the current two-week truce Saturday would not plunge all the pits back into idleness.

The first 24 hours of government seizure produced discouraging results from the administration point of view. Thousands of miners who had gone back to work under the truce, quit their pits.

Ask Time For Study

This mass return to idleness closed down an additional 234 mines, increasing the number immobilized by the bituminous dispute to more than 2,100 out of 4,500, total. The latest federal estimates are that more than a third of the 400,000 soft coal miners are now staying away from work.

With the truce's end rapidly approaching, Krug and Vice Admiral Ben Moreell, who is charged with running the seized mines, weighed the newly-stated terms which Lewis submitted to the government for settlement of the two and one half months old dispute.

They asked for time to study all its particulars, after a full day of conferences with Lewis and his negotiating committee yesterday. Representatives of the Solid Fuels Administration and Federal Social Security Board also participated in the preliminary discussions.

Decision By Saturday Possible

Lewis' chief demand is for a seven per cent levy on the operators' payroll to build up a union health and welfare fund, to be controlled exclusively by his United Mine Workers.

Krug told a news conference last night that Lewis had made known his demands, although he indicated that the mine union chief had presented only a general wage and hour proposal. The coal operators have been protesting since their negotiations with Lewis began March 12 that he would not talk hours and wages until he got a commitment on the benefit fund demand.

The Secretary of Interior—who was selected to operate the mines by virtue of his office as Solid Fuels administrator—said it was "very possible that the government's position on all the principals involved in a new contract can be decided before Saturday night."

Krug said, however, that "the execution of a contract within that time would be very difficult."

"I hope that if an accord can be reached on the things that make a contract appear certain, the workers can be kept on the job," he added.

The administrator stated frankly that without the support of the union leaders, "it is unlikely the government can persuade the miners to go back" or to stay on the job after the truce ends Saturday.

Issues Appeals

Lewis, meanwhile, was keeping his own counsel on what he intended to do. As in the threatened rail strike, the Smith-Connally War Labor Dispute Act appeared to be an unknown factor in the picture. This statute provides jail sentences and fines for encouraging a strike in an industry taken over by the government. Union officials contend it would not apply in cases where a walkout has been ordered before the date of government seizure, but the legal question has yet to be ruled on.

Reports persisted in the coal fields that the union's 250-man policy committee is heading for Washington, but official confirmation of this was lacking. It was this committee which called the present truce and which must ratify any new contract.

Krug said all he could do at the moment to keep the miners working was to issue appeals, which he has done.

TUITION RAISED

Lewisburg, May 23 (AP)—President Herbert L. Spencer of Bucknell university announced today tuition at the school will be increased from $400 to $450 a year, effective next September, because of increased costs of operation and maintenance. He also said board rates for both men and women students will be advanced $50 a year starting with the September term.

ANTI STRIKE ACT HELD 'POSSIBLE' BUT NOT LIKELY

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, May 23 (P)—The question is asked: Can Congress pass a law outlawing strikes and, if so, why doesn't it?
Actually, Congress could pass such a law. There's nothing in the Constitution specifically saying labor has the right to strike. But—there's plenty in the Constitution which could be interpreted as meaning labor does have the right to strike.
The interpreting—whether or not men have the right to strike under the Constitution—would have to be done by the Supreme Court.
For once such a law were passed by Congress, some union would strike to make a test case of it and bring it before the Supreme Court for decision.

Labor's Only Weapon

The position of labor unions is this: The strike is the only weapon labor has in trying to force employers to meet some, if not all, of labor's demands.
Labor unions insist that the Constitution gives workers the right to strike. They point to those sections which say:
1. A man shall not be forced into "slavery" or "involuntary servitude."
2. A man shall not be deprived of "liberty" without due process of law, such as trial.
So, the unions argue, forbidding a man to strike deprives him of the "liberty" to leave a job and this means "involuntary servitude."

Recognized By Law

The principle of the strike as an economic weapon of labor has been recognized by the courts. Chief Justice Taft said in a Supreme Court decision in 1921:
"The strike became a lawful instrument in a lawful economic struggle or competition between employer and employees as to the share or division between them of the joint produce of labor and capital."

Because anti-strike legislation would be such a drastic step, Congress would hardly attempt it without lengthy hearings and fiery debate. It's a clinch labor would seek the defeat of any congressman who voted for such a law.
And if Congress attempted to outlaw strikes, it almost surely would go one step further and force compulsory arbitration upon employers and employees unable to agree on a dispute.

Banking Committee Turns To Subsidies

Washington, May 23 (P)—The Senate Banking committee turned today after voting to give the secretary of agriculture full say over food and farm commodity price ceilings.

The committee is at work on a bill to extend OPA's life a year after June 30.
Senator Taft (R-Ohio) had ready an amendment to end the subsidies by January 1 and to cut their amount for the last six months of this year to about half what OPA says is needed.

The subsidies are paid on meat, flour, dairy products and some other commodities to hold down their price in the grocery store. OPA figures that their removal would necessitate a rise of five to six cents a pound in the price of meat, for instance, and one-cent for a loaf of bread.

The subsidies currently are running at the rate of about $1,600,000,000 a year and OPA asks $1,700,000,000 to continue them for 12 months after next June 30.

Textile Workers Cancel Contracts

New York, May 23 (P)—E. M. Schoffstall, publicity director of the Textile Workers of America (CIO) said Wed. the union had cancelled its contract with seven plants of the American viscose company, effective June 20.

Schoffstall said the cancellation resulted from a dispute in the Meadville plant which involved frozen and rotating shifts. The company rejection of a union program for settling the Meadville dispute, he said, had the effect of halting general wage negotiations which have been in progress several weeks.

Meadville employees have been working frozen shifts since 1943, Schoffstall said. The company posted notice May 5 of a return to rotating shifts and employee sections were raised.

Asbestos Workers End Long Strike

Ambler, Pa., May 23 (P)—A 139-day strike involving 750 AFL employees of the Keasbey & Mattison Co., asbestos manufacturing firm here, was settled yesterday by labor-management representatives.

Employee members of the United Textile Workers (AFL) will meet tonight to accept or reject a new contract which was approved by the executive board of the union's local 2,409. The agreement provides wage increases of 14 1/2 cents an hour for men and 16 1/2 cents for women; a union shop with checkoff and retroactive pay to last July 11.

BYBERRY STAFF IS 'OVERWORKED'

Philadelphia, May 23 (P)—Blaming "an overburdened staff" as cause for a situation which prompted an attendant at the Philadelphia state hospital (Byberry) to strangle a paralyzed patient, Leonard Edelstein, executive secretary of the national mental health foundation called on Pennsylvania officials to correct "undesirable conditions" which exist in mental institutions.

Edelstein yesterday told a board of inquiry investigating conditions at Byberry that the strangling occurred about two years ago. He declined to identify the attendant.

"It is not my purpose to testify against any one individual or group, political or otherwise, for the undesirable conditions which exist in the mental institutions of Pennsylvania, or for that matter in other neglected mental institutions in the United States," Edelstein asserted.

"This specific instance," he said, "was just another case of an overburdened staff under the terrific

President Signs Vet Housing Bill

Washington, May 23 (P)—President Truman has signed legislation designed to facilitate the private construction of 2,700,000 new homes within the next two years.

Housing administrator Wilson W. Wyatt said "This throws the veterans' housing program into high gear."

The legislation was sent to the President after a long and better battle in Congress during which the house once emphatically rejected the proposed use of $600,000,000 in subsidies to stimulate production of scarce building materials. However, the house later reversed itself and agreed to $400,000,000 for subsidies.

Democrats Lose Seat By Election

Pittsburgh, May 23 (P)—Democrats lost a congressional seat in two special elections held in connection with Tuesday's primary, increasing the state's Republican delegation to 19.

With only three small precincts still to report, Republican Carl H. Hoffman of Somerset was the winner over Mrs. Marion B. Snyder, Perryopolis Democrat, by at least 1,500 ballots in the 23rd congressional district.

The three remaining precincts were in Mrs. Snyder's home county of Fayette, but the lead Hoffman had picked up in his home county of Somerset appeared sufficient. Mrs. Snyder had been nominated to fill out the unexpired term left by the death of her husband, Rep. J. Buell Snyder, who had held the seat since 1933. The term will expire next December 31.

In the other special election, Frank Buchanan, former Democratic mayor of McKeesport, won over John R. Brown, Jr., Republican, in the 33rd district (a part of Allegheny county). The seat became vacant when Rep. Samuel A. Weiss, Democrat, was elected to a judgeship.

OPA INCREASES NEW CAR PRICES; PUBLIC TO PAY

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington, May 23 (AP)—OPA, slapping four to eight per cent price hikes on top of previous increases for new automobiles, kept the door open today for a possible further boost.

At the same time chances virtually disappeared for any OPA-ordered cut in ceiling prices when the industry achieves full scale production.

A high OPA official who asked to remain anonymous said the industry "does not plan to try to reduce prices" after cars begin to roll from assembly lines at the pre-war rate. Manufacturing costs usually decline as production goes up.

The official asserted that car makers "have a pretty tough time of it" and that a price cut by OPA would be out of the question.

Can Be Another
But he added there could be another increase. Three already have been piled on 1942 auto prices.

Present ceilings will stand, the official said, until the industry has been operating at the 1941 production rate for three months. It may take some time to hit that stride. The Civilian Production Administration reported last week that, due mainly to strikes, only 433,766 passenger cars were produced in the 10 months through April. It said this was just about a normal pre-war figure for one month.

When the 1941 rate is achieved and maintained for three months, OPA will take another look at prices and grant any additional increases for which manufacturers may qualify under the agency's peacetime pricing standards.

The Public Pays

The increases announced yesterday range from $33 to $167, averaging about $75 for 16 makes of cars built by Chrysler, Ford, General Motors, Hudson, Nash, Packard and Studebaker.

For the latter two companies the increases compensate for both wage boosts and higher prices for materials, principally steel, and parts. The other five firms received increases for parts and materials their wage boosts were offset earlier by price hikes of from $1 to $60 a car. The full amount of the fresh in-

MAJOR PARTIES LAUNCH DRIVES FOR PA. VOTES

Harrisburg, May 23 (AP)—Pennsylvania Republican and Democratic leaders marshaled their forces today for November election campaigns promising plenty of political fireworks.

Winning overwhelming victories in light primary balloting, organization forces led by Republican Governor Martin and U. S. Senator, Joseph F. Guffey, Democrat, headed into the fall campaign with control of the state's Congressional delegation and the commonwealth's government as the stakes.

Martin, who yielded to GOP leaders' pleas that he be their standard-bearer, will oppose Guffey, renominated by Democrats for a third Senate term. The issues will be party and personal stands on national and state issues—with the 1948 Presidential race in the background.

Vigorous Campaign By Rice

On the other hand, Col. John S. Rice, of Gettysburg, nominated by Democrats over Henry Arthur Morris, of Mahanoy City, launched a vigorous campaign against continued control by Republicans of the state government.

Rice said the campaign already is on and he will give the opposition "both barrels" in speeches in Pittsburgh June 3 and June 7.

Attorney General James H. Duff, GOP gubernatorial candidate selected over John U. Shroyer, self-styled New Guard Republican, has

Assemblyman Wins By Last District

Waynesburg, Pa., May 23 (AP)—One whoppingly one-sided district, which reported late, changed defeat into unofficial victory for James D. Cole, of Nemacolin, former United Mines Workers official, in his race for a Democratic assembly nomination in Greene county.

THEATRE BURNS AT SHENANDOAH

Shenandoah, Pa., May 23 (AP)—Fire, raging out of control for nearly five hours, destroyed the two-story Capitol theater and four other buildings yesterday, forced 200 movie patrons to flee and caused injury to seven volunteer firemen. Damage was estimated at $225,000 by Fire Chief Edward Murphy.

Twenty-five fire companies from Shenandoah and nearby communities fought the blaze as 10,000 persons jammed into the downtown section of this town of 20,000.

Murphy said the 200 movie patrons showed no panic while leaving the 1,400-seat theater. He said there were several shouts of "fire," but no hysteria.

Twelve persons living in apartments above the theater were trapped when flames burned out stairways. They were rescued without injury by firemen.

The American Red Cross set up field headquarters to aid firefighters and the injured. It also made plans to provide for 10 homeless families, the majority living in the four destroyed buildings which adjoined the theater.

Murphy said the fire apparently started in the projection booth of the theater.

go, and was reported an apparent winner.

Then the two missing precincts came in. One of them gave Cole 300 votes to 14 for Wright. The final count was Cole 1,423, Wright 1,359.
